LOCALS IN BRIEF.

-The Board of Mayor and Aldermen meets this evening.

-Colonel Sam. Tate has been appointed Receiver of the Meridian and Selma railroad. -Six cases were disposed of in Police Court this morning, and twelve dollars in fines collected. -It is feared that the cold weather of the past two days has damaged the forthcoming fruit crop. -The First National Bank honored check for $192,000, drawn by one of our merchants yesterday. -Trains on the several railroads leading from the city are running with remarkable regularity. -The Supreme Court for the Western Division of the State was in session at Brownsville yesterday.

-Numerous depredations by stock thieves in the suburbs are daily reported at police headquarters. -That fast and obliging institution, the Southern Express, will again accept our thanks for repeated favors. -The rain of the past twenty-four hours has rendered the unpaved streets of the city excessively muddy. - Money to loan on collaterals, room 7, Knickerbocker Building, 18 Madison street-up stairs. 31* -The dry goods house of Cohen Bros., corner of Front and Poplar streets, was entered last night, and several articles of value stolen. -Hon. Landon C. Haynes will deli the next annual address before the Law School of the Cumberland Presbyterian University at Lebanon, in June next-- The gunshop of L. Schuman, 134 Beal street, was entered at an early hour this morning, and about one hundred dollars' worth of guns and pistols stolen. -At a meeting of the creditors of Hans Lemon, R. E. Mason, W. S. Bond, B. W. Williamson and T. J. Gardner, bankrupts, W. Y. Cirode was appointed assignee. -J. E. Bigelow, it is rumored, has received the appointment of Supreme Court Judge, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Judge

Hawkins. -Subscription books of the Merchants' Insurance Company will be kept open, at the office of the People's Insurance Company, until the sum of $200,000 is subscribed. -Joe Locke, 22 Jefferson street, has received in advance of the mails the very latest Northern and Eastern papers.

also all the magazines for April. Joe likewise keeps his counter constantly supplied with everything in the line of illustrated and sporting papers.

WE ARE prepared to furnish Wood, in any quantity and of any quality, as low as it can be sold; also, Sawed and Split Wood by the load, and satisfaction guaranteed. Bigley, Melleren & Co., 25 South Court street, and corner Main and Pontotoc. - Robbers effected an entrance to the hardware house of Orgill Bros., corner of Front and Monroe streets, last night, and stole six navy pistols and a quantity of cutlery, with which they made off undiscovered. An old gray coat, probably left by one of the thieves, was found in the store this morning.

-The case of the Government vs. D. H. Evans, charged with a violation of the revenue law in congealing whisky on which the tax had not been paid, will come up for hearing before United States Commissioner Morrison, this afternoon. The business position occupied by the defendant and the amount of the seizure, probably the largest ever made in the South, render the case one of more than usual interest and importance. -The recent arrests of mackerels for vagrancy, together with the death of their captain, Tom Porter, and the exodus to other parts of his successor, Jake Ackerman, seems to have thrown the brigade into a state of demoralization. It is very noticeable that the juvenile offenders are becoming scarcer every day, and their offenses diminishing proportionately. We learn that a squad of recruits who recently came down from St. Louis have returned in disgust. They can very easily be spared.

HUNTER IN A NEW ROLE.

He Orders the Arrest of Judge Waldron for Interference with Process of His Court.

The Contempt Cases Assume a Triangular Shape -A New and Interesting Phase of Affairs.

The protracted litigation directly and indirectly growing out of the attempt of William Hunter, the individual, for articles reflecting on his private character which appeared in the columns of the Avalanche, to exercise his authority as William Hunter, Judge of the Criminal Court of Memphis, in suppressing that paper by imprisoning and fining its editorial staff, seems suddenly to have assumed altogether a new phase. The fight originally made up between Hunter and our Jefferson street confrere has taken at length a triangular shape, and Judge Waldron, of the Municipal Court is lugged in and seems destined in future to share with the Avalanche the thunderbolts heretofore launched by the Jupiter of the Criminal bench solely at the latter. This, of course, involves an entire change in the plan of battle on all sides. and as the relative positions, defensive and offensive, of the opposing parties is somewhat complicated, it may be necessary to review the events of the past twenty-four hours in order to fully com prehend just how matters now stand.

The application made by Col. Gallaway and Mr. Campbell to Jadge Waldron for a habeas corpus, on which the defendants were brought out of the county jail and before the bar of the Municipal Court, where the case was argued at great length some ten or twel re days ago, and a decision from time to time postponed, was finally decided, it will be remembered, by Judge Waldron, yesterday. This decision appeared in the LEDGER of last evening, together with the action subsequently taken by the Court in modfication of the order remanding the defendants to jail. Judge Waldron assumed the ground that he had no right whatever to interfere with the process of Judge Hunter, presiding in a court of concurrent jurisdiction, nor could be concede the right of appeal. So far so good, and had he but stopped here the Judge of the Criminal Court would doubtless have been eminently satisfied with the proceedings, and himself and the Judge of the Municipal Court "hunkadors." But it was not ordered that it should be thus. Another step in the matter was destined to undo all that had so far been done. An application made by the counsel for the defense, that the order remanding the defendants to jail be held in abeyance for ten days, in order that the decision of the case by the Supreme Court, now in session at Brownsville, might be heard, was granted, and Messrs. Gallaway and Campbell, after entering into bonds for their appearance at the expiration of that time, were permitted to retire from the Court room, and again, for a brief period at least, breathe the free air of heaven. This last was quite too much for the persecuted Hunter to stand. On learning it he became frantically indignant, and quite forgetting for the time the editors of the Avalanche, forthwith issued a warrant for the arrest of the offending Judge of the Municipal Court. The following is the order:

CRIMINAL COURT OF MEMPHIS, February Term, 1868. The State of Tennessee vs. Geo. W. Waldran The clerk of the Criminal Court of Memphis will issue an attachment for contempt of this court against George W Waldron, on the following charge: That the said George W. Waldron did, under pretense of acting in his official ca-pacity as Judge of the Municipal Court of Memphis, willfully, falsely, knowingly, unlawfully, and completely impede, set aside, and unlawfully interfere with, the process, orders and judgments of this court in a matter in which he knew at the time of said unlawful interference hi had no lawful right or authority what-ever, in contempt of this court, within the 5th, 13th and 14th civil districts of Shelby county, and during the present term. The sheriff will hold to bail in the sun of $250. The writ returnable on the 13th of April inst-

[Signed] WM. HUNTER, Judge of the Criminal Court of Memphis. Issue subpœnas for D. S. Griffin and WM. HUNTER, P. D. Beecher.

WM. HUNTER, Judge. In obedience of the above, Mr. Capera, clerk of Hunter's court, forthwith made out a writ of attachment, which was placed in the hands of Sheriff Curry to be served on Judge Waldron, and which was served on him at his residence, on Vance street, about dark, and the necessary bail taken for his appearance on Monday next. Thus with a fresh shuffle and a new deal all around, the little game of contempt has become three-handed, and if our Jefferson strest confrere can only pass, the interesting and somewhat novel spectacle of the two judges playing it alone will be presented. Who holds the trumps remains yet to be seen. In the event that Hunter imprisons Waldron and Waldron retaliates by imprisoning Hunter, and either or both take Lewis, Leonard and the rest of the ring to jail with them, we trust they will be kept in until an election can be ordered and their places filled by those who will render the judiciary of Memphis less ridiculous in the eyes of the civilized and enlightened world. THE VARIETIES.-Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, this favorite resort was crowded as usual last night with an enthusiastic audience. Misses Kent and DeVere continue to delight their hearers with their charming ballads and duets, while the other members of the company enliven the entertainment with dances and grotesques. The entire troups are on the bill for this evening. Swart Potatous for sale three miles

Col. Beaumont in Search of Wolf's Hole by the Bloody Moon.

Base Ball Club Mistaken for the Shrouded Brethren and Arrested.

A Huge Practical Joke.

Colonel Beaumont, with a squad some twelve policemen of the lower district, sallied forth by the light of the bloody moon, last night, in search of the mysterious brethren of the K. K. K., who were supposed to be in session at Wolf's Hole or Serpent's Glen. In yesterday's LEDGER was published the following fulmination from the man in the moon or his first cousin in Memphis: Beal street-Eight and half o'clock. SKULL, Supreme Cyclops.

This doubtless led the Superintendent of the Metropolitans to believe that the Grand Cyclops would assemble his masked legions somewhere on Beal street, and hither, therefore, the Superiatendent repaired to gobble his Supreme Highness, with all the little highnesses under his wing. Seeing a light in the hall in the third story of the brick building at the corner of Hernando and Beal-the happy thought flashed across the mind of the Superintendent that this must be no other than the rendezvous of the K. K.'s. In fact, so certain was be of this, that stationing his men at the foot of the stairway leading from the hall, he prepared to gobble the masked brethren one by one as they descended, and appointed a special squad to take charge of the Great Grand Cyclops, who, it was supposed, would be the last out. This was about ten o'clock, and only a few moments after the opening of a door above signalled the breaking up of the council, Footsteps were next heard on the stairs, and very shortly the first Ku-Klux emerged from the building, and was grabbed by a stranger in azure uniform. Other Ku-Kluxes soon followed, and were received in a similar manner; and at last the Great Past Grand Giant, who stands 9 ft. 8 in. in his stockings-more or less-emerged, and after a desperate struggle was secured, bound hand and foot, and borne off on the shoulders of half a dozen herculean patrolmen. The whole squad of little Ku-kluxers, with the old grandfather Ku-klux himself, numbering some twenty in all, were conducted to the lower station, taken into the captain's private office and searched. And then for the first time came to light the startling revelation that what had been mistaken for the K. K. K's, was none other than the Pride of the South Base Ball Club. But, lo! and behold, on searching the person of the individual mistaken for the Grand Cyclops, the following blood and thunder document was found, and again it occurred that it was the Ku-Kluxers who had been arrested after all: The name of this den shall be the Supreme Cyclopean Council, and its officers Grand Cyclops, and a Secretary. All funds coming into the be under the control of the three officers shove named, and two directors to be elected, who shall act as a supervising council, and their decision upon all questions shall be final. The meetings shall be called by the Grand Cyclops, when he deems it necessary, and shall be done through the papers in the cipher of the organization.

The object of this organization is for the purpose of protecting the people of the South from the band of murderers and robbers now preying upon them, even to the last resort—assassination; and we pledge ourselves one to the other that nothing shall be allowed to deviate us from this noble object.

Entrance to the lodge room will be obtained through the medium of two raps in quick succession, to be followed by two slow ones. The inside sentinel will say "ust;" the outside applicant will our trust;" admitted, and upon giving the grip as detailed in another place, he can take his

The members of the Lodge, all shrouded, will rise and receive him and conduct him into the middle of the room. Each member of the order shall have a drawn dagger or other weapon in his hand, pointed toward the candidate, and each member will be required, in the presence of the candidate, to swear that hould said candidate prove recreant to the oath which he is about to take, that he will kill him, and make it his special duty to do so on the first safe opportunity. As soon as the shrouded brothers have taken the above oath, the fellowing charge and oath shall be administered by the Grand Cyclops, or, in his absence,

the Vice Grand:
"Here in the presence of this skull and the members here assembled, I solemnly swear to be true to the Order, to its members individually and collectively, and should I ever, by sign, word or deed, betray a secret, or a member of the Brotherhood, that the skull upon which I now look may be a counterpart of mine, and I hope that all the relations which I now enjoy may be sun-dered, that honesty in the men or virtue in the females may not known in my family and generation, and that all who own my name shall be branded as dogs and harlots. I further swear to obey implicitly the orders of the Grand Cyclops, regularly issued through his Council, and as soon as I reseive an order to fulfill it. I again awear that, should a member of this order be in danger, that, even at the risk of my life I will defend and endeavor to save him: that I will give no outward sign or hint that a person may know of the existence of the K. K., unless authorized by the Grand Cyclops, and that each member of this order, as soon as the sign is given, I will recognize, defend and protect as a brother. I further ewear that I will, under and in all circumstances, bear true alle-giance to the South and her interests, as interpreted by the Supreme Cyclopian Council, and when I receive its orders, should I be even in the embraces of my Sweet Potatons for sale three miles wife, I will leave her to obey them. That my family and the family of a Radical shall never interchange visits, and I further pray that the God of the Southland, whom I now invoke, shall strike me dead should I ever, either in letter or in spirit, pfringe upon the things set forth in this oath. To all of which I swear in Benesty of heart and sincerity of purpose. So help me God." In regard to the grip, your committee would report that the simplest plan, and at the same time the beat, would be a common meeting of palms, at the same time using the interlocking of little fintime using the interlocking of little fingers, and a pressure of thumbs on the back of the hand. Your committee will practically explain it. The word of dange we would suggest to be for the present "Eli Lami Sabacthani," which w would recommend to all members to commit to their memory. In regard to other things submitted to your commit-tee, we would ask for further time, and would excuse ourselves, upon the plea that one of our members has been sick. All of which is respectfully submitted. The above, which is nothing more than a literal transcript of the constitution of the Sons of Malta so altered as to serve the purposes of the Base Ball Club in practicing the above practical joke, was of course, taken possession of and published to the world in one of the Radical papers this morning, as the veritable constitution, oath, etc., of the Ku-Kluxers. We understand that a skull was also captured in the building after the supposed Klan had been taken, but as Dr. Sim happens to have an office next door to the hall, we cannot see how this discovery can be regarded as at all miraculous. Suffice it to say that after being thoroughly searched, and no further discoveries being made, the young men of the base ball club were released and allowed to depart for their homes, heartily amused over the joke they had played on the police. But why is our Superintendent of Police so very keen after the Ku-Klax Klan and, at the same time, so oblivious of Union Leagues. Are the members of the Klan all rogues, and the Leaguers all saints, in his estimation. Or is there some law that allows one class of citizens to organize and arm for secret purposes, good or evil, and forbids another? Put down all secret organizations alike, and there will be no complaint by good citizens. But if scoundrels are to be free for villainy, shall not honest men be equally so for self-defense? The government which forbids such equality of liberty as this is a curse to a people, and the amount bid. GREAT DECLINE IN REAL ESTATE -The beautiful city property on the corner of Exchange and Third streets, occupied by Hon. Wm. O. Lofland as a city residence, was sold this morning at public auction for $2200 cash. Sam H. Coward, trustee, sold the property, and William Coward, Esq., was the purchaser. The above property is in the heart of the city, only wo squares from the Overton, and is one of the most beautiful residences in the city; and at one time could have been sold for $25,000.

-At the regular meeting of the St. George's Benevolent Association of Tennessee, held in the Municipal courtroom last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Henry E. Green; 1st Vice-President, T. J. Walker; 2d Vice-President, Robert J. Walker; Treasurer, T. H. Hunt; Financial Scribe, Chas. Williams; Recording Scribe, Mr. Troutten ; Board of Trustees, Joseph Gant, A. Norman and W. Juniper; Relief Committee, Jno. Thomas, Mr. Reynolds and Mr. Strong. The meeting was then adjourned until the 23d inst., when the above named gentlemen will be installed in their respective offices.

A WORD TO THE OWNERS OF VALUABLE STOCK.-The frequency of incendiary attempts in this city of late should caution all owners of blooded horses and other valuable stock to stable them in fire proof buildings, else they are in danger of being lost at any moment. One of the most thoroughly protected stable structures against fire, and one to which we cheerfully recommend our friends owning valuable stock, is kept by that best of judges of horse flesh and cleverest of gentlemen, Joe Seligman, 68 Union, near the corner of Third street.
